

Stricken Nome Awaiting Serum

Blizzards Delay Dogs Who Are Hastening to Alaska Settlement With Help for Diphtheria sufferers—Fear Disease Will Spread to Other

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Nome, Alaska, Feb. 2.—This strick-

Poor connections were made by the dog team relay at Old Woman, it was learned today, and the mushers did not speed out of Unalakleet until 5.30 Sunday night.

The temperature raised here during the last few hours from 22 degrees below to about zero. A blizzard is raging to the southward and is believed to have covered the trail to be followed by the dogs, making their progress slow.

Three relays are being used to rush the anti-toxin packet to Nome, Edward Kohn and James Kason having hurried from here to the assistance of Leonard Seppella, champion musher of Alaska, who has carried the brunt of the long trek from Nenana. Rohn was reported to have made the last relay and Seppella was expected to drive the dog in the final dash into Nome.

That hundreds have been exposed in addition to the six hundred residents at Nome was learned today when Dr. Welen was notified that Margaret Curran, daughter of a dog team mail carrier who cooks at her father's road house a short distance out of Nome, had been stricken with the disease. One case in Nome was contracted at the road house and many others were believed to have been exposed at the same place.

Travellers in all directions out of Nome were feared to have made contact with the disease and its spread to adjacent camps was regarded as probable although no cases except that of Miss Curran have been reported.

Unalakleet is 267 miles from Nome, and by taking short cuts this distance may be shortened by the fast running dogs so that arrival of the long awaited serum was confidently expected during the day. Should the storm to the south not be as bad as reported here, the mushers would reach Nome before noon.

More Money For Forests

Bill Provides Funds for Increasing State's Nurseries—Recommended by Governor on Report of Conservation Commissioner.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Feb. 2.—Assemblyman Walter L. Pratt, chairman of the committee on conservation, has introduced a bill appropriating $100,000 to defray the expenses of the conservation commission for reforestation and acquiring land for the establishment, operation and maintenance of nurseries.

The bill provides that the conservation commission may purchase, subject to the approval of the governor, lands for nurseries in any part of the state and follows the recommendations made in the report of Conservation Commissioner Alexander Macdonald and in Governor Smith's message.

In his message to the legislature Governor Smith said:

"I would strongly urge the members of your honorable bodies to give close attention to the section of the annual report of the conservation commission dealing with reforestation. It sets forth clearly that maintenance of production upon the lands of the state is a vital necessity. . . . The fact that about ten thousand acres have been planted this year is encouraging but because of the great area needing the service, progress to my way of thinking is altogether too slow. Additional provision should be made at once by the state for an adequate supply of young trees for planting stock and for the reforestation of state lands. The conservation commission certifies the amount required for the progress of this work, and I trust you will give their recommendation most careful consideration."

In his annual report Commissioner Macdonald said: "There are upwards of 4,000,000 acres of idle, non-productive land in this state which is suitable only for the growing of timber. There is already a scarcity of timber. Our industries are increasing the demand on our forest resources. It is, therefore, imperative, as an economic and industrial measure for this state to greatly increase the steps which it has only begun in the reclamation of this vast area in order to purchase material of which wood is the basis for our civilization and industries. The production of wood is a necessity and a benefit to all the people no matter what their interest."

The enlargement of the state's forest nurseries will enable the state to greatly increase its supply of planting stock and to plant trees on state land. For the past two years it has not been possible for the state to do any planting on state land because of the great demand for trees for planting on private land and because individual orders were given preference over state planting.

Within the past three years there has been an enormous increase in tree planting throughout the state as the need of and profits in planted forests became better understood by farmers, industrial concerns, sportsmen and others and both in 1923 and 1924 the entire output of the state's nurseries was absorbed by orders leaving none for planting on state land.

TROLLEY CAR TOWED LOADED COAL SLEIGH UP THE HILL

Traffic at the corner of Broadway and the Strand was tied up a few minutes this morning when one of the big coal sleighs of Watts & Tammany became stalled and the team of horses were unable to budge it. The trolley car came along at that moment and to eliminate traffic delay gave the team a tow part way up the Broadway hill. A towing rope was hitched to the trolley and sleigh and trolley car and team started at the same time and the sleigh moved rapidly. As soon as the sleigh was over the hump spot on the brick pavement and onto the street again, the team was able to haul it up the remainder of the hill unassisted.

FAMOUS DAYS

The days were talking. Monday was not with them for Monday was working. Monday, in other words, was busy being Monday.

But Monday had heard some of the talk when Sunday had been busy and would hear more when Tuesday began working.

"I think it is quite wonderful," said Thursday, "to think about it."

"All of the days have had countless honors shown to them. Not only are there all the wonderful holidays—the Fourth of July and Christmas day and New Year's day and all of the others which we've all had a share in, but every day—every one of us has had some famous person born on our day."

This Dear Little Girl.

"In fact we've had any number of honors like that and we've been having them for years and years and shall continue to have them."

"Of course the dates are important but then these dates are always upon certain days."

"One time it will be Tuesday and another time Wednesday and so on that different great people will have been born, and the splendid fun about it all is that we never know what honor has been shown us until some time afterward."

"It is always such a question whether the little baby who is down in the little yellow house at the foot of a certain street, for example, will grow up to be famous or not."

"We watch, we days."

"We will nudge one another back here, many years later, and we'll say, 'Did you see that my little Thursday baby, born twenty-seven years ago, had been doing most marvelous things?'"

"Not only do we think of the marvelous things they do—these people who show us such honors without knowing at the time that they are doing us so good a turn—but we think of many others too."

"I know just what you mean," said Tuesday. "I've been watching a dear little girl who was born on a Tuesday seven years ago."

"Just at the moment I can't remember which date it was—but anyway I was about and the first thing I saw was this dear little girl in a basket all lined with pink silk and pink bows on the side and her little face was screwed up into such a cunning, funny expression."

"It was pink too—or perhaps I should say almost red!"

"Now she is just one of the many I've watched. The other day she had her seventh birthday."

"Well, I call her a success! To me she is famous! For she is so successful in making everyone gay and joyous about her, and she is famous the way she makes a party go and the way she starts everyone having a good time."

"Then I wouldn't be at all surprised if she sang most beautifully when she grew up."

"I've heard her sing little songs and they've been sung ever so sweetly. I'm proud she was born on my day."

"Yes," said Saturday. "I have so many I'm proud of too. Maybe the world will never hear of them in a great big way, but they've put into their own homes and their own schools and their own friendships the best of themselves."

"And the best of themselves has been so good."

"I know one adorable little mother who was born on my day—quite a long time ago as the children would say. But they'd add,

"Still she doesn't act old—not one scrap."

"She is very dainty and very sweet and she is most interesting. Everyone wants to talk to her. Everyone wants to go to her parties because not only do they enjoy the parties but they know her."

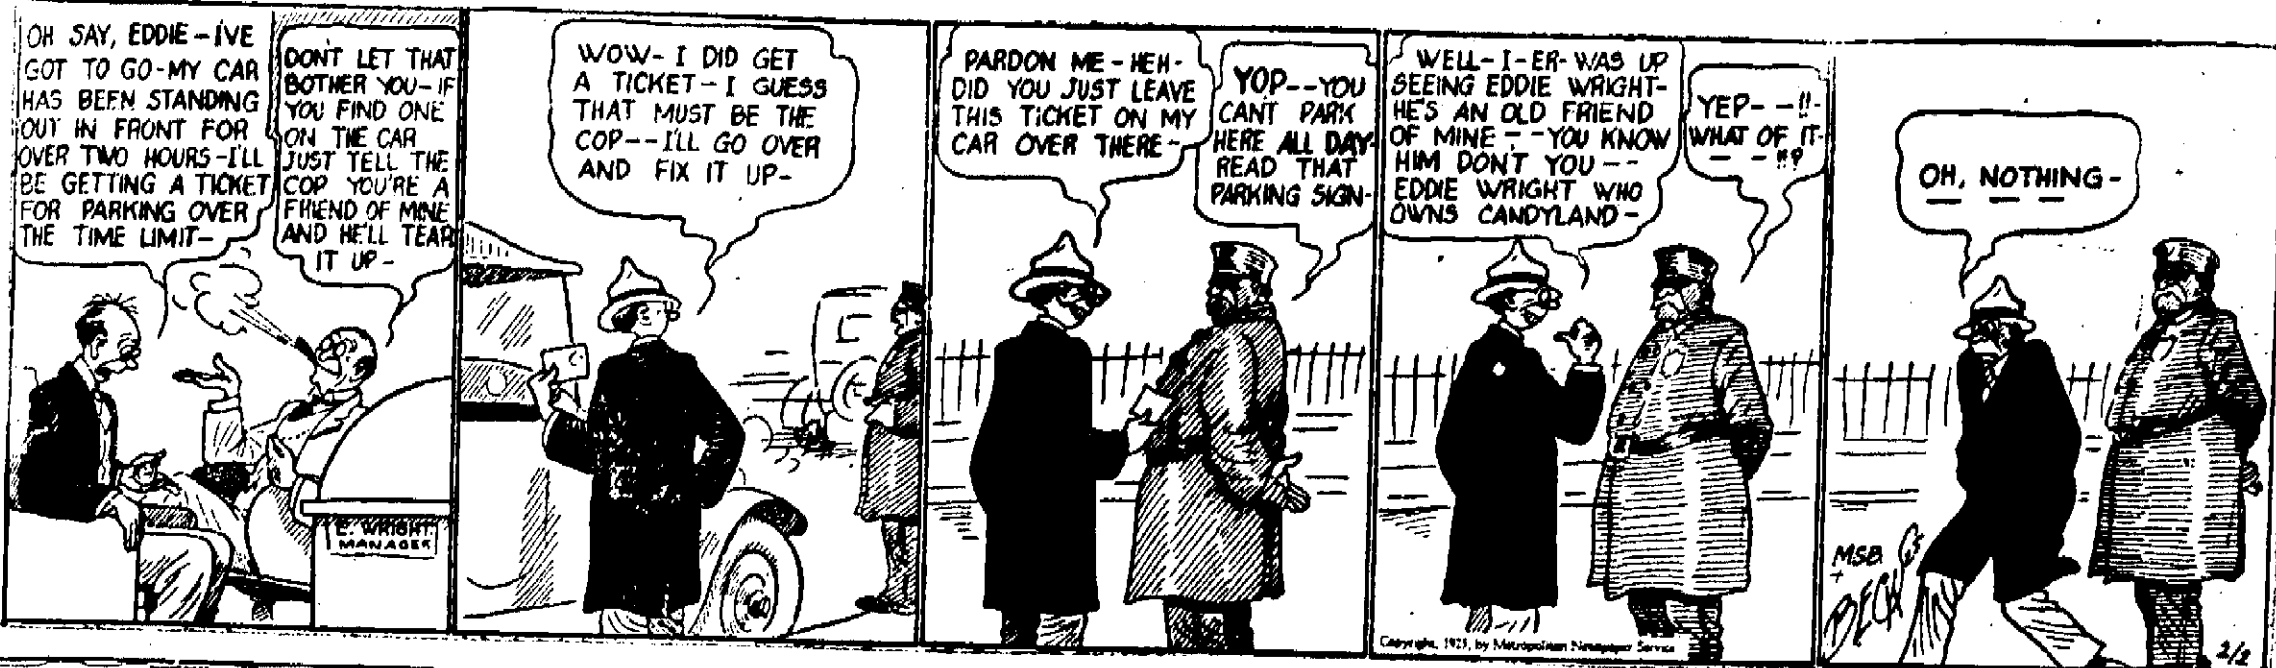

"When Any One Is Sick."

"She is kind when any one is sick and she is gay and witty and such fun when all is well."

"Oh, I'm very proud of her."

"Yes," said Sunday. "I feel that way too. I'm proud of the fun we've been upon my day. It's so splendid to think of them all. But I'm a particular set of favorites—some who've been just splendid additions to this world—in their own circles—and whose bright really glad to see them—these my favorites of all."

WINTER SAUSAGE

In small towns and on farms when it is practical to make sausage at home, it is much more enjoyed than that bought at meat markets. When preparing the meat for sausage, put it through the meat chopper three times, using the medium knife. As most sausage needs something to give it body, a cereal, like oatmeal, is liked. To prepare it put two quarts of water, one tablespoonful of salt into a saucepan; when boiling add one pint of oatmeal. Stir occasionally and cook one hour. Turn into a deep dish, add the meat and seasonings to taste. Pour dressing, sage for pork, celery leaves dried and rubbed fine, also parsley leaves are well liked with salt and pepper as usual.

Italian Sausage.—Take two cloves of garlic, six medium-sized onions chopped, two pounds of lean pork, one pound of fat pork; put through the meat chopper twice, then add the pint of cooked oatmeal as above, two tablespoonfuls of salt, the same of dried celery leaves; one tablespoonful of poultry dressing, one teaspoonful of black pepper and paprika to taste. Mix thoroughly and pack into five-inch casings. Plunge into boiling water, boil for one and one-half hours. Hang up to drain, and dry for a week or two. Then dip into melted paraffin and hang in a cold place till needed.

Bologna Sausage.—Take two pounds of beef, one pound of fat pork, one-half pound of bacon, one clove of garlic, one medium-sized onion. Put the meat and seasoning through the meat chopper, then add the oatmeal as prepared. Mix well, add two tablespoonfuls of poultry dressing, two tablespoonfuls of salt, one teaspoonful of black pepper. Mix well, put through a colander. Pack into an eight-inch casing. Boil two hours, then cure as above.

Steamed Pudding.—Take one quart of bread crumbs, add milk to moisten, two well-beaten eggs, one and one-half cupsful of molasses, one cupful of currants, one pint of chopped apple, one-half teaspoonful of allspice, the same of cloves. Steam two hours and serve with a hot sauce.

Pumping for Fish

Since the Stone age the accepted method of catching a fish has been to inveigle it onto a hook. Catching fish in a net is also a method of considerable antiquity.

It has been left to the Americans to evolve the latest method of catching fish—that of sucking them up with a pump!

A tube running for and aft of the fishing vessel empties into a tank, and an eight-inch motor-driven centrifugal pump at the forward end sucks in about 14 tons of fish and water a minute.

This goes into the tank, which catches the fish and allows the water to run off. The method is simple and extraordinarily efficient, for if the boat passes through a shoal, more than two tons of fish a minute may be caught.

Fresh-Water Mussels

In recent years there has been a great shortage in the supply of fresh-water mussels. Pearl buttons are made from the shells of these mussels, and the gathering of them for button factories is one of the important industries of Iowa, especially that part of the state bordering on the Mississippi. Extensive experiments dealing with this shortage are now being conducted at the University of Iowa, and Miss Sara Lewis of the department of biology is developing longer mussels. In the course of a few months mussels under her care have developed from one-half to one inch. These mussels will be placed in beds in the Mississippi but will not be ready for harvest for five years. In the meantime the experiments will continue.

Lake of Sulphuric Acid

New Zealand possesses a curiosity in the shape of a lake of sulphuric acid. This is on Sulphur Island, in the straits between the two main islands. The water is very hot and contains vast quantities of hydrochloric and sulphuric acid, the fumes from which roll up in dense clouds.

Wilson Sarcophagus Unveiled

This is the completed sarcophagus over the tomb of the late Woodrow Wilson in the Rutherford Chapel of the Washington Cathedral, where it has just been unveiled. The three flags surmounting it are historic. Two of them are the "President's flag," presented by the Government to each President, representing the first American troops who marched through London in the World War, with Mr. Wilson as their Commander-in-Chief at home.

Antea Grew Corn

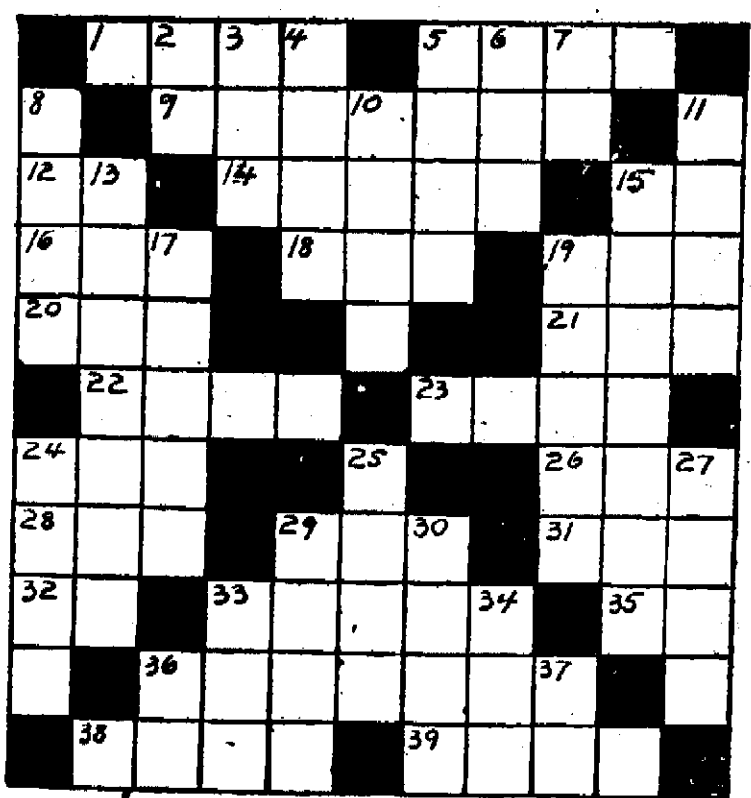

The only related plant with which corn will cross-fertilize is teosinte, a large, semi-tropical grass growing wild in the mountains of Central America and adjoining regions, says Nature Magazine. It is in this country of the ancient Mayas, Aztecs and Incas that the most abundant evidence has been found of early cultivation.

Keep Out the Sun

West windows are to be avoided for the afternoon sun is too strong for the plants, and it does not seem to act favorably on even the most sun-loving plants, says Nature Magazine. If a west window must be used, some sort of protection should be given the plants to reduce the amount of light and heat.

WILDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to pneumonia. You can stop them with Creomulsion, an emulsified cod liver oil. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Income Tax Information

Millions of forms for filing returns of income by individuals and corporations have been sent to taxpayers who filed similar returns in 1924. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file a return and pay the tax on time. Copies of the forms may be obtained at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Albany, New York, and the following branch offices:

Hupel Building, 161-st street and Third avenue, Bronx, New York.
Post Office Building, Poughkeepsie, New York.
Post Office Building, Newburgh, New York.

To avoid penalty, the return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives or has his principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1925.

Individuals, whose net income for 1924 was derived chiefly from salary or wages and was $5,000 or less, are required to file their returns on Form 1040A. Individuals whose net income, regardless of amount, was derived from a business or profession, including farming, are required to use the larger form, 1040. The use of Form 1040 is required also in cases where the net income was in excess of $5,000, regardless of whether from salary, business, profession or other taxable sources.

Many corporations engaged in special kinds of business, such as manufacturing tobacco or oleomargarine, dealing in narcotics or spirituous liquors, etc., are required to make special reports. Corporations subject to sales tax or occupational tax also have their particular forms to fill out. A domestic corporation must file annually, during July, a return on Form 707, showing the fair market value of its capital stock for the preceding year ending June 30. In the case of a foreign corporation doing business in the United States, it is required to file a return on Form 708 during July reporting the average amount of capital employed in the transaction of business in the United States during the preceding fiscal year.

The forms required from corporations in general for income tax purposes may be divided into two classes, those required in connection with their own income and those required with respect to the income of other taxpayers. Some of the forms required to be filed by corporations are as follows: Form 1120, if any corporation files on a calendar year basis, on Form 1120A if it files on a fiscal year basis. Life insurance companies file on Form 1120L. A subsidiary or affiliated corporation whose net income is included in a consolidated return filed by the parent corporation must make an information return on Form 1122. A certificate of inventory on Form 1126 must be filed by any corporation engaged in a trade or business in which the production, purchase or sale of merchandise of any kind is an income-producing factor. Ownership certificates on Form 1000 are required to be filed by non-resident foreign corporations in collecting interest on bonds or similar obligations owned by them issued by domestic or resident corporations. Ownership and exemption certificates Form 1086 are used by foreign corporations having offices in the United States, in order that no tax may be withheld at the source from their incomes.

The following are some of the forms that are filed by corporations in connection with the income of other taxpayers: Forms 1012 and 1013 which are required of debtor corporations, or corporations acting as paying agents or collecting agents in behalf of debtor corporations. A corporation which acts as a fiduciary in cases where the income tax of the estate or trust is to be paid by the beneficiary must make a return on Form 1041. Form 1042 is filed by corporations who pay at the source the income tax on salaries, wages, etc., paid to non-resident alien taxpayers.

Reports of income payments of $1,000 or more of salaries and wages are required to be filed on Forms 1096 and 1099 by a corporation which pays such income. These returns are carefully checked with the returns of the recipients. Lists of dividend payments on stock of domestic and resident corporations must be filed on Form 1097 by dividend paying corporations.

OLIVE BRIDGE.
Olive Bridge, Feb. 2.—Quite a severe snow storm visited this place on Thursday last.

Elmer F. Davis lost a valuable cow one day last week.

A number from our school took regents' examinations at Poughkeepsie. Our mail carrier, Mr. Davis, was late on Friday, due to the heavy snow storm.

Blanche Hoyer and Harold Christiansa passed all their preliminary subjects and have entered high school. We now have seven pupils from District No. 2 attending Kingston High School. Much credit is due our very efficient teacher, K. E. Merrick.

Robert Merrick and wife were recent callers at the home of Elmer F. Davis.

All are glad to see the Rev. S. S. Robbins out again.

J. V. Merrick and daughter Edna, and Mrs. William Christiansa and son Harold, made a business trip to Kingston one day last week.

Mabel Christiansa and Hazel Davis spent the week-end at their homes in this place.

Rumor says the Rev. S. S. Robbins expects to leave us in the spring.

"Belles-Lettres"

Formerly the expression "Belles-Lettres" was sometimes used as the equivalent to the humanities, but it is now applied rather vaguely to literary works of style, taste and imagination—in other words, "polite literature." The term has no recorded use in English before 1710, when it was used by Swift in the Tatler.

What the Sun is to the Flower

Have you ever seen a great, glowing hollyhock unfolding before the warm rays of the sun, until every delicate vein and tendril seemed to quiver with life and joy?

Just so does the Yeast in your loaf of Bread carry its life-giving gift of vitamins to every crumb and fiber.

What the sun does for the flower, the Yeast does for your Bread. It softens and ripens the gluten of the flour, making the texture of the Bread fine and delicate.

Without sunlight flowers droop and die. Without Yeast, the Bread you love would not be food at all, but a dead, indigestible mass of dough.

It is the rich content of Yeast in MRS. SALZMANN'S MOTHER'S BREAD that gives it the delicate, appetizing flavor that keeps you wanting more and more.

"Home Manager—Purchasing Agent—Art Director—Wife"

JUST a slim girl, maybe, or a motherly woman with sweet eyes and white hair—but what a responsibility is hers!

She is the active partner in the business of running a home. She buys most of the things which go to make home life happy, healthful and beautiful. Through her skin, safe fingers goes most of the family money.

And wisely and well it is usually spent too—far better than the average man could spend it himself. For women are better purchasing agents than men. They compare prices, weigh values and shop carefully.

They read advertisements regularly. Every day you'll find the wise little home manager searching the advertising columns for news that will add to the comfort, convenience and improvement of her home. You will find the same clever purchasing agent studying the advertisements to find where and when to buy, and what and how to buy most economically. The advertisements, too, tell this responsive art director how she can make her home more beautiful, more individual—the kind of home that a man appreciates but never knows how it is done!

Advertisements are the wise counsellors in the spending of money that the clever housewife needs daily.

The business of running a home is made easier
by reading the advertisements

National League Golden Jubilee

Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration. Today of National League Will Bring Together Old and New Regime—Old Timers Accept Invitations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Feb. 2.—The old regime will clasp hands with the new today when the National League will commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of its founding on the hour and on the spot where the great event took place. It was February 2, 1875, that the league was organized at the Broadway Central Hotel, with Morgan G. Bulkeley in the chair.

Today, fifty years later, present club owners and players will mingle with the magnates and stars of a half century ago, in the same room where the league was founded.

Mr. Bulkeley and John Heydler, the first president and the last, will have places of honor at the meeting. The ceremonies will be simple but impressive. They will be followed by a luncheon where the new and the old will have a chance to "visit and talk about the game that has been handed down through the years as America's national pastime."

Notables among the old timers who have accepted invitations are Jack Manning, Boston; Tommy Bond, Hartford; Alonzo Knight and George Bradley, Philadelphia; and Dan Brothers, old time champion hitter; Amos Rusie, whose speed ball is a topic of conversation to this day; Joe Hornung, Bill Dahlem, Huyler Westervelt, John M. Ward, Sam Crane, former Governor John K. Tener, Julian Curtiss, Frank Richter and Ted Sullivan.

NURMI IN POOR PHYSICAL CONDITION.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Feb. 2.—According to friends and advisers, Paavo Nurmi today was in poor physical condition in facing another week of attempted record breaking on American indoor tracks. The Finn, it is said, is suffering from a leg strain and a heavy cold and can hardly hope to be at his best for the 2 1/2 mile special at the Western Union games tomorrow night.

Nurmi also is scheduled to run in a 2 1/2 mile event at the Newark Athletic Club games the following evening and in the 3,000 meter special at the Wilco meet on Saturday.

BOOTS FOR GIBBONS.

St. Paul Fighter Willing To Meet Dempsey Or Willis.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Feb. 2.—Speaking for Tom Gibbons, leading white challenger for the heavyweight title, Eddie Kane is expected to confer with Tex Rickard for the purpose of signing Gibbons for bouts with Jack Dempsey and Harry Willis. Kane came here, accompanied by Gibbons, at the request of Rickard.

Gibbons today spoke freely of his intention to force Dempsey out of his announcement retirement and of his desire to meet Willis.

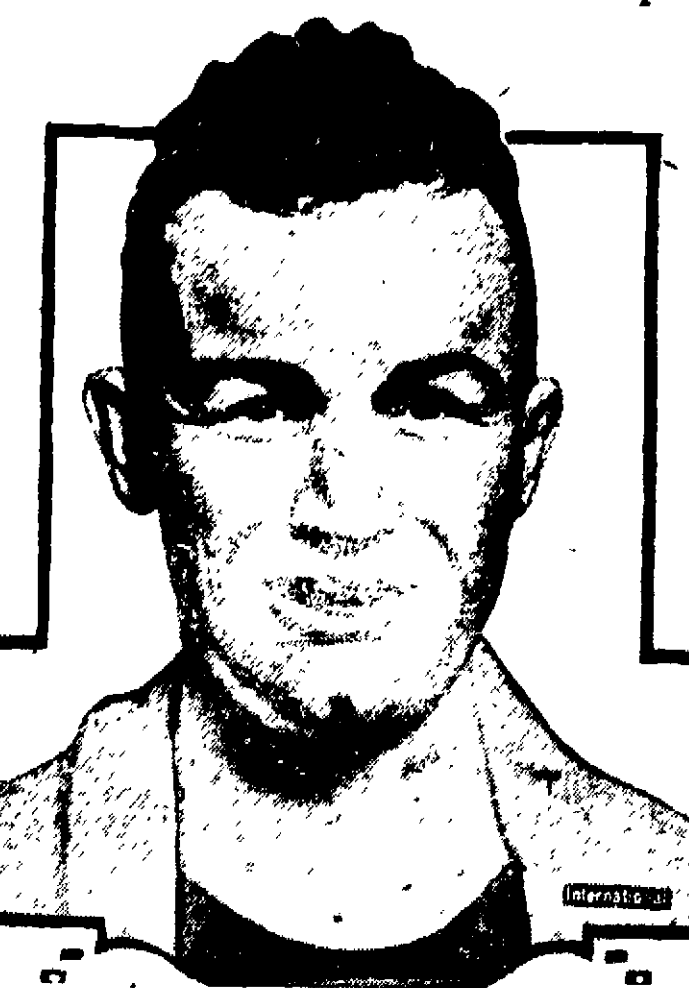

"I would rather fight the champion, of course," Gibbons said "in that way I can look forward to winning the title in the ring instead of by acclamation. However, if Dempsey sticks to his determination to remain idle I will claim the championship and defend it against Willis."

Taber'ski Gaining.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Feb. 2.—Frank Taber'ski, New York, made a decided gain upon Ralph Greenleaf, Philadelphia, in the national championship pocket billiard league standing during the week just past and today was 2 1/2 games behind the champion. According to the official standing, Greenleaf has won 26 games and 18, and Taber'ski 21 games with 18.

Gibbons Gets Offer to Box Firpo

Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight boxer, announces that he has received an offer to fight Luis Angel Firpo, South American heavyweight, before the National Sporting club at London. The club is said to be willing to post a guarantee of £20,000 sterling, the winner to take 60 per cent and the loser 40 per cent.

Walter Johnson, who has pitched to most of the stars of the game in his day, has named the following as his all-star major league team: Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Babe Ruth, outfielders; Hal Chase, first; Nap Lajoie, second; Jimmy Collins third; Turk Turner, short; Charles Street, catcher; Rube Waddell, pitcher.

Emmet Wins Skate Race

Pitched Only No-Hit Game

How many fans know that the only no-hit game in the American league last season was pitched by Walter Johnson of the Washington American league champions and the only one-hit game in the major leagues in 1924 was also credited to the Washington pitcher? His ninth game was pitched against St. Louis and went only seven innings.

This new way works wonder on cloudy teeth

Modern science, by perfecting a new way of combating the stubborn film that covers teeth, now opens the road to whiter teeth, safely.

THAT cloudy teeth, yellow, lab, discolored teeth can be made whiter is now an accepted fact. Foremost dentists of the world are widely urging this new method. You can have cleaner, prettier teeth if you will start today.

This is accomplished by combating a viscous film that covers teeth. A stubborn, hard to remove film that old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel this film. Under it are the clear, attractive teeth you envy in others. Combat it, and your teeth become many shades whiter—more glistening. This offers you a 10-day test free. Mail the coupon.

The great enemy of teeth. Film is the great enemy of teeth beauty. And a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Gums, with tartar, are the common cause of pyorrhea. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film. Ask your druggist or mail the coupon for Pepsodent. Don't expect the same results from old time dentifrices. Begin beautifying your teeth today.
